Dear Sir or Madam,
Sattelite Radio provides immense benefits to me (the consumer). I pay good money to subscribe to sattelite radio, because it gives me something broadcast radio doesn't...relevant information when I need it, not when some DJ finishes impressing himself with his manifold cleverness.

I entreat you to reject the NAB's petition 04-160, because:

It acts in restraint of trade.

It subverts the market mechanism.

It would deprive me of a valuable source of relavent information.

It would place me at the mercy of the stupid.

Remember, if the broadcast bands had a decent product, the market for sattelite radio would never have come into being. Please do not deprive me of these services.

As to the entertainment value; there is no entertainment value in broadcast radio either. It is one add after another. They step all over the music with their stupid blather, either insulting my intelligence with inane commentary, or trying to sell me something I don't want.

Please reject this latest act in reatrainment of competition (NAB's petition 04-160). Please do not deprive me of my 100+ channels of pure entertainment.

Thank You Very Much,

Lewis Davidson
